Tank Monitoring

Local Monitoring

Watchman Sonic Advanced

The Watchman Sonic Advanced transmitter measures the oil level in the tank and sends this information to a receiver plugged into an electronic wall socket in the building. The liquid level is displayed on the receiver's LCD screen, and when the oil level drops below 10%, a fuel dispensing symbol appears, prompting the owner to order more oil. If there is a sudden drop in oil level, the receiver will emit an audible alarm.

Remote Monitoring

Watchman SENSIT USB Receiver

The Watchman SENSIT smart tank level monitor allows you to stay informed and in control by remotely checking your tank levels from anywhere. It sends drop alerts, low-level warnings, predicted run-out notifications, and real-time consumption data directly to your smart device, ensuring you're always aware of your tank status without being tied to a single location.
